The Hiring Manager
Merit-Tutors

Subject: Application for the vacant post of Sales Executive (Remote).

Dear Sir/Madam,

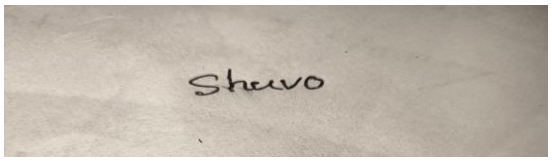

On the 22nd of June, 2026, I, Dibosh Modak Shuvo, came to know about the vacancy for the post of Sales Executive (Remote) at Merit-Tutors from the advertisement published on BDJobs. My educational background, communication skills, and eagerness to build a career in sales will allow me to become a valuable addition to your organization. Thus, kindly consider this as my application for the aforementioned post.

Merit-Tutors is recognized for providing high-quality educational support and connecting students with experienced tutors through an innovative online platform. The company has earned a strong reputation for professionalism, customer satisfaction, and creating meaningful learning opportunities. I am highly motivated by your commitment to excellence and believe that working with your organization will allow me to develop my professional skills while contributing to the continued success of the company.

Your organization requires a candidate with excellent verbal and written communication skills in English and Bangla, strong interpersonal abilities, negotiation and customer service skills, and a passion for achieving sales targets. I have completed my Bachelor's degree and possess strong communication, teamwork, and problem-solving abilities. I am confident in interacting with clients, building positive relationships, and learning quickly in a fast-paced work environment. I am enthusiastic about contributing to your sales team and believe that my dedication, positive attitude, and willingness to learn make me a suitable candidate for this position. Thus, I hope you will consider me a qualified candidate for the vacancy.

I would really appreciate a window to discuss my qualifications further over an interview. Please let me know if you need any additional information. Thank you for your valuable time and consideration.

Best regards,
